

SUSTAINABILITY WEEK | JULY 5-8, 2021

SUSTAINABILITY: THROUGH THE LENS OF BUSINESS

EVENT SPONSORS

With the increased awareness of sustainability and the urgent action needed to combat the impact we are having on the world, businesses are at the forefront and need to be the drivers on issues like climate change, inclusivity and balanced growth. Globally, businesses are reshaping their business models and adapting to address these imperatives. Companies are moving into a more sustainable way of operating to not only improve productivity and drive innovation but to also be answerable to the survivability of the planet and its inhabitants.

Join us on this journey at AMCHAM's Sustainability Week as we explore what is already underway and be inspired to see what you can do to put you and your company on this path for a better future.

AGENDA - DRAFT (*Subject to Change)
Day 1 - 5 July	Sustainability - The Business Imperative Businesses have traditionally revolved around the pursuit of profit, growth and shareholder benefits. However, the impact to our world and to the human condition can no longer be overlooked and shareholders are starting to realise the role they can and need to play. In fact, it has never been more clear that now is the time to address and manage critical aspects of shared societal and environment goals. Tomorrow's profitability will depend on how businesses incorporate the sustainability principles into their current business models. REGISTER HERE
